GIN

Gin is, at its simplest, a spirit flavoured with a variety of botanicals, with the predominant flavour being juniper. Despite that simple start, it is a spirit with a long and turbulent history, as well as a vibrant present and future.

Gin has always been a popular drink in Britain, and spread during the reign of the British Empire and then beyond to all corners of the globe. Many gins are now tailored to the taste of the localities where they are consumed, leading to a wide range of styles, flavours and ingredients, from the historical to the ultra-modern.

WE ALL LOVE SOME LITTLE STORIES

Juniper has been used for more than 1,000 years as a medicine to treat rheumatism, arthritis, loss of appetite (as well as overactive appetite) and gout.

London Dry Gin can be made anywhere in the world.

If you are making a Martini, then you must use gin.
If you make your drink using vodka, you have actually created a classic cocktail called a Kangaroo.

VODKA

Vodka is much more interesting than it might appear to the casual observer. Scrape beneath the surface and you'll find a spirit with a rich and diverse history, made from a variety of raw materials, each of which affect the finished product's final taste, and sometimes flavoured with quite a bewildering array of different fruits, herbs and spices from every corner of the globe.

Once you start to delve into the world of vodka, you'll find a fascinating product with bags of history and a wide range of styles and flavours. The raw material used has a big effect on a finished vodka's taste, as does the mind-boggling variety of herbs, spices and fruits used as flavourings.

WE ALL LOVE SOME LITTLE STORIES

The word 'Vodka' is Russian for 'Little Water'.

Vodka sales in the US were transformed in the 1950s by the Moscow Mule cocktail (vodka, lime juice, ginger beer).

Before 1885, vodka was only sold in Russia in 12-litre buckets.

RUM

The multicoloured tapestry of rum styles spanning the Caribbean, Central and South America is as rich as the history and culture that encircles this great spirit. From cocktail-friendly white rum, through to mellow golden examples, to molasses-rich navy bottlings, no other drink spans such a spectrum of colours and flavours.

If rum's most obvious manifestation is a clear spirit diluted with coke or submerged in a Mojito, its identity is harder to pin down. From fiery over-proof to complex, sipping-only pot still, each country and every distillery has its own inimitable take on this most versatile of spirits.

Bacardi was produced in Cuba from its inception in 1862 until Fidel Castro seized power in 1959. Most of its rum is now made in Puerto Rico, but the Bacardi building - topped by its distinctive 'bat' sculpture - remains one of the finest art deco structures in Havana.

TEQUILA

Beyond shots, slammers and hangovers, Tequila is a remarkable drink which can express the nuances of its raw material arguably better than any other spirit on the planet. The key to its unique flavour is the spikily distinctive blue agave plant, which gives Tequila its trademark flavour combination of fruit, pepper and spice.

Everyone knows Tequila – or at least they think they do. But there's so much more to this world-class spirit than headaches and nausea from ill-advised drinking sessions. It's subtle, distinctive and, in its finest form, as complex and worthy of contemplation as any fine Cognac or single malt.

WE ALL LOVE SOME LITTLE STORIES

The blue agave plant is not a cactus, despite its spiky appearance; instead, agave tequilana is a succulent that more closely resembles a lily.

According to regulator Organisation Consejo Regulador Del Tequila, there were 150 distilleries making Tequila in 2013, and no fewer than 1,377 registered brands.

Roughly 85% of all Tequila is consumed in Mexico and the United States, with the latter accounting for 75% of export sales.

WHISKY

SCOTTISH SINGLE MALTS

Malt whisky is the 'original' whisky of Scotland. Malt whisky is made only from malted barley, in two (occasionally three) copper pot stills, by a batch process. 'Single' malt whisky is the product of an individual distillery.

More than one billion bottles of Scotch are exported every year, with France the biggest market.

The first reference to Scotch whisky was in 1495.

The first single malt to be marketed outside Scotland was by Glenfiddich in 1963 in an individual distillery.

SCOTTISH SINGLE MALTS

Roughly nine out of ten bottles of Scotch sold around the world are blends – that is, a mix of grain and single malt whiskies. These products are the lifeblood of the industry and the liquid expression of an art form that borders on alchemy: combining myriad components to create one harmonious and consistent whole.

IRISH WHISKEY

The Irish may have been the first distillers in the British Isles and, for a brief period in the 19th century, Irish whiskey reigned supreme over its Scottish rival. Boom was followed by bust – and near extinction – but today the good times are back, with distilleries popping up all over the Emerald Isle.

Connemara Peated Single Malt 15

WE ALL LOVE SOME LITTLE STORIES

Jameson was produced at the Bow Street Distillery in Dublin from 1780 until 1975, when it relocated to the new Midleton Distillery in Cork.

JAPANESE WHISKY

The early years of Japanese whisky are dominated by two men: Masataka Taketsuru and Shinjiro Torii. Taketsuru was famously sent to Scotland in 1918 to learn about whisky-making, studying in Glasgow and getting hands-on experience in Speyside and Campbeltown before returning to Japan with a head full of facts and a Scottish wife!

When he joined forces with Torii in about 1921, Taketsuru's vision was to build a distillery on the remote northern island of Hokkaido - the part of the country he thought most mirrored Scotland. However, Torii feared this was too far from the main markets of central Honshu, vetoed the idea and instead built Yamazaki on the outskirts of Kyoto in 1923.

CANADIAN WHISKY

Although it shares certain characteristics with Scotch whisky and bourbon, Canadian whisky has a style all of its own, thanks to a unique means of production and the influence – sometimes subtle, sometimes obvious – of rye. And, if prohibition nearly killed American whisky, it helped Canadian distillers to thrive.

COGNAC BRANDY

For the past three centuries, Cognac has been almost universally recognised as the finest of all the spirits that are distilled from grapes. It has many incomparable qualities: fruitiness, subtlety of bouquet, intensity, warmth and, above all, the complexity of the many thousands of styles and flavours from a (predominantly) single grape variety.

About 80 miles or so north of Bordeaux lies the two picture-postcard towns of Cognac and Jarnac, the heart of the Cognac industry. The region, stretching from La Rochelle in the north to Royan in the west and Angoulême in the east, is home to nearly 6,000 grape growers who supply white wine for distillation, predominantly made with the Ugni Blanc variety (aka Trebbiano).

Cognac has several categories, which reflect the time each one has spent in barrel.

VS ('Very Special') Cognacs must contain eaux-de-vie no younger than two years old

VSOPs ('Very Superior Old Pale') must be at least four years old

XO ('Extra Old'), as well as bottles labelled 'Napoléon', 'Extra' and 'Hors d'âge', it's six years, although this will rise to 10 years from 2018 (with the exception of Napoléon).

In practice, most of the XO Cognacs contain eaux-de-vie much, much older than the legal minimum.

WE ALL LOVE SOME LITTLE STORIES

The equivalent of 20 million bottles of Cognac are lost each year due to evaporation ('The Angel's Share').

Just 3% of all Cognac produced is drunk in France.

If you visit the Cognac region, you'll come across warehouses covered in what looks like black soot. This is actually a fungus, Torula Compniacensis, that feeds on the evaporating Cognac vapours.

WHITE WINE

175ml 250ml Bottle

Baron Philippe de Rothschild Sauvignon Blanc

11 14 40

Pays d'Oc, France

Classic, tropical, balanced.

This Sauvignon displays the classic style we all know and love. It possesses fresh acidity and crisp citrus fruits, alongside melon and lychees. The finish is crisp and lengthy.

Baron Philippe de Rothschild Viognier

11.5 15 44

Pays d'Oc, France

Clean, fresh.

This wine has a lovely nose of delicate white peach mingled with a defined floral character. The palate has rich stone fruit, alongside a subtle almond character whilst remaining clean and fresh. This particular range produces wines that are best consumed within a few years of vintage.

Bouchard Aîné & Fils Chardonnay Vin de France

12 16 47

Bourgogne, France

Very dry, delicate light wine.

Southern French Chardonnay produced by a Burgundy house that fundamentally understands the grape. The wine shows white flower aromas, such as acacia, alongside notes of honey and vanilla.

Grave del Friuli Pinot Grigio Borgo Tesis Fantinel

13 17 50

Friuli-Venezia Giulia, Italy

Very dry, delicate light wine.

Flavoured for Pinot Grigio ripe apple with peach and pear notes palate. Unoaked, the finish is refreshing and flavoursome.

Gavi di Gavi Enrico Serafino

69

Piedmont, Italy

Bright, herbal notes.

The Cortese grapes are sourced from the best vineyards around the town of Gavi to the north of Genova. Unoaked, the wine spends a little time on its lees to develop a richer mouth-feel. Showing floral and citrus aromas, with a mineral, dry palate.

Chablis Bouchard Aîné & Fils

73

Bourgogne, France

Fresh, fruity, mineral aromas.

Typical light, fresh and fruity nose with mineral aromas, white flowers and hints of fresh peach, dried fruits and hazelnut, the palate is dry with a citrusy freshness to the finish.

RED WINE

175ml 250ml Bottle

Luis Felipe Edwards Lot 37 Pinot Noir

11 14 40

Light, easy drinking.

The grapes for this quite light, refreshing red berry and cherry scented wine were grown in cooler vineyard sites in the Maule Valley.

Vita Sangiovese

11 15 42

Puglia, Italy

Light, simple, delicate.

Soft and supple with red fruit flavours, a hint of violets, smooth finish.

Baron Philippe de Rothschild Cabernet Sauvignon

12 16 47

Pays d'Oc, France

Rich, intense.

This wine has a rich nose of ripe blackcurrants and black cherry and is full-bodied yet soft and very easy going. This Cabernet Sauvignon is uncomplicated and makes for the perfect pop and pour.

Marqués de Morano Rioja Crianza

13 17 48

Rioja, Spain

Spicy, yet fruity.

Made from Tempranillo and Mazuelo grapes which are matured for at least a year in cask followed by at least a year in bottle to give that classic smooth oaky taste.

Aruma Malbec, Bodegas Caro, Domaines

15 21 59

Barons de Rothschild Lafite

Mendoza, Argentina

Full-bodied, fruit filled, spicy.

The palate is soft and plump with black cherry and plum notes and a little pepper on the finish. There's no oak in sight, so the classic juicy style of warm climate Malbec can sing loud and proud.

Barolo d'Alba Enrico Serafino

69

Piedmont, Italy

Dry, full bodied.

Surrounded by some of Italy's most famous wine regions, the town of Alba sits in the center of the Barbera d'Alba region. The Barbera grapes undergo a moderately long fermentation and the wine is aged in large oak barrels.

Barolo Enrico Serafino

110

Piedmont, Italy

Sophisticated, polished, complex.

Intensely elegant nose, with red fruit and spicy notes of liquorice and vanilla with a mouthfeel of austere, smooth tannins and a freshness to the finish. Barolo is a very well-structured red with a racy cut to the tannins due to a long maceration and two years of ageing in oak barrels.
